

Services | Green Home Consulting

If you're planning a green renovation or new construction project, make us your first call. We collaborate with architects, interior designers and builders to ensure that your project meets the highest level of green building standards.

RESEARCH LIBRARY & CERTIFIED GREEN

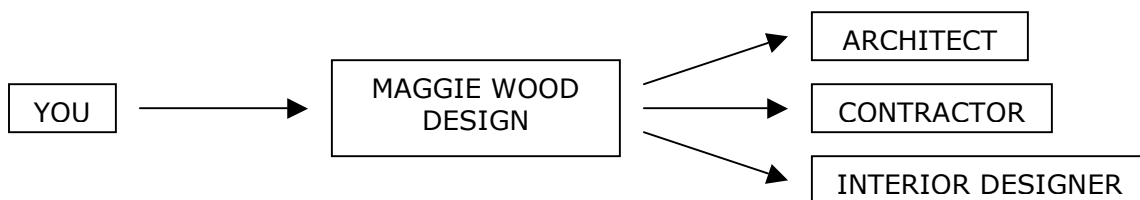

We work every day to stay on top of the latest developments in green products, materials, and techniques. Our state of the art research library contains product information, testing results, and peer reviewed research in over 50 building categories that is guaranteed to satisfy both the discerning designer and strict green builder. Unlike most other firms, we take nothing at face value as every product we recommend or specify for a project has been carefully analyzed by our team. To learn more about our criteria for selecting green products and materials, see our page on Green Design Criteria.

PROJECT SCOPE

We provide green design guidance for your home- from top to bottom, insulation to cabinet hardware, to water purification and green property maintenance. We work with a team of experts in the fields of water and air quality, environmental toxicology, and organic landscapes to make sure that your project is held to the highest green standards. For more information, please see our Areas of Expertise.

THE DESIGN TEAM

Maggie Wood Design works with architects, designers and contractors already selected by you, or we can help you to create a team of building professionals to realize your next project. Because we believe that our clients should chose architects, interior designers and contractors based on what it is that they do best- design, and build, we don't expect them to have any experience with green (but having an open mind to it is critical!). We will lead your team with the research, the products and the sustainable design. This is how we will work with you and with the rest of your building/design team.
